MOUNT VERNON.

A Description of the Historic House of the Father of His Country.

A Press Correspondent is a Pilgrim, and Visits the House of America, and Writes Entertainingly of Its Surroundings.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22, 1892.—One hundred and sixty years ago to-day was born a child whose name was destined to become a household word in every liberty-loving home in the world; and that child was christened George Washington.

It was my pleasure to-day to visit the home made famous by him.

It is situated on the Virginia bank of the Potomac, and is reached from Washington by boat. The boat left the wharf at the foot of Seventh street at 10 o'clock a. m., and passed down to the old historic Virginia town, Alexandria. From Alexandria we went next Ft. Foote, an earth work, in Maryland. The only sign of defense at Ft. Foote was a ragged "negro" boy and a hungry looking black dog.

The next landing was made at Ft. Washington, built of stone and more formidable in appearance than Ft. Foote, but which is, however, not garrisoned. The fort is about opposite Mt. Vernon, the home of Washington.

The approach from the river to the Tomb of Washington is by a circling hill-road; and this traversed, we were at the resting place of the soldier, patriot and statesman, the "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen." There within marble casquets, behind the iron grating of the heavy gate, with the benediction of this world resting on them are the remains of George and Martha Washington. Great was their work, and a grateful country remembers them.

I next visited the Old Tomb where the family was first laid to rest; then the summer-house between the mansion and the river. Under this summer-house is a vault; and down a steep and winding path is the spring-house, in which is a spring of sparkling water. This is the Deer Park which is covered with a growth of briars and heath.

From the spring-house back by the summer-house, I went to the mansion.

The mansion is nearly one hundred feet long, and the middle part was built by Lawrence, the half brother of George Washington. The remainder was built by the General, and named in honor of Admiral Vernon, of the British Navy. I entered first the library at the west end. Here are to be seen many of Washington's books, some papers in his own neat handwriting, his famous Farewell Address, and a book that attracted more attention than almost any other, the Bible of Washington's mother, in which is this record with others: "George Washington, son of Augustine and Margaret Washington, was born on the 11th day of February, 1732, about 10 o'clock in the morning." Then follows a record of his christening and baptism. It will be noticed the record reads Feb. 11, which was old style. Just above the library and reached by a rather narrow flight of steps, is the room in which Washington died. In it are many relics of Washington: his compass, chair, trunk, secretary (writing desk and book case at which he kept his accounts and did his other writing), and the plain bed on which he died. The room is not large. Indeed all the rooms want that spaciousness so marked at Arlington; but there are many rooms. Just above this room is the room in which two years later Mrs. Washington died. The room is small, almost compact, I may say. There are "spare" rooms on this floor, the third, windows from which look out over the Potomac and the Maryland hills beyond and still above is a tower not accessible to visitors.

On the second floor is the room of Nellie Curtis, which looks over the north park and plantation beyond.

In the hallway on the first floor are the sword worn by Washington during the Revolutionary War, and the one worn on State occasions when he was President. Here is also the great iron key of the Bastille. It has a handle like a gilet; and, iron enough in it to make several locks and keys as well.

But the objects of interest are too numerous to mention. There are family paintings, portraits, knitting and needle-work, and many, many other things to carry one back to the Plantation Period.

The kitchen is connected with the mansion by a covered, but open, colonade. Here the visitor is served with tea and milk by colored folks who claim to be "ob de family." North of the kitchen is the butler's room, and west of this, the smoke-house, then laundry. Connected with the mansion at the east end, as the kitchen at the west, is the servant's room; and back and to the west are various other rooms and buildings, necessary to the great plantation.

A beautiful lawn is north of the mansion which is entered from the road, leading round from the landing. West of the lawn is the vegetable garden, and east of lawn is the flower garden. The garden is laid off in sections by box hedges said to be two hundred years old, if I remember correctly, and on the east of the garden is the hot-house with thousands of varieties of flowers.

I will say that Mount Vernon was purchased by The Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the Union which was incorporated in 1859.

The house and furniture are not as the Washington family left them. At one time all the furniture was ruined; but the association has repaired such as could be obtained and substituted other furniture where the old could not be obtained. The rooms are, to a great extent, furnished each by a State.

The location is a sort of puzzle as to directions. The house faces nearly south, and on that side is the Potomac river, flowing nearly west. So the mansion is on the north bank in Virginia! The mansion really has no back, the south with its great portico, extending the entire length overlooks a lawn, next the deer-park, then the Potomac; the south, winged by outbuildings, overlooks a lawn of dog-wood, cedar, oaks, holly and other fine trees. Near the butler's room is a magnificent magnolia, planted, it is said, ninety-one years ago to-day by Washington's own hands. He was then sixty-nine years of age. There is an elm tree near the Tomb, planted by Dom Pedro, when Emperor of Brazil. The ringing of the bell admonished us to leave the consecrated place, before our hearts bade us go; and, as we cast a parting look on the marble casquets, decorated with flowers, a line of Continental soldiers, in Revolutionary uniform and cocked hats, marched, tramp, tramp, tramp, and we followed on.

ANOTHER CONVENTION.

The Third Party Will Meet at Omaha, July 4th, to Nominate a Candidate.

St. Louis, Feb. 25.—The joint committee in whose charge the matter was placed by the Industrial Conference just ended here met this morning, and after an all-day session, selected Omaha, Neb., as the place of holding the nominating convention of the new-born Third party. July 4 was last night selected as the date, and that action was reaffirmed.

"The Executive Committee of the People's party in each state are charged with the duty of promulgating this call and of fixing the time, place and method by which the said delegates shall be chosen.

"The basis of representation shall be four delegates from each Congressional district, and eight delegates from each state at large, making the total number 1,776. We call upon all the citizens of the United States to help us make our principles triumphant. We believe that if the voters neglect their duty this year it may be impossible in any future canvass to protect the rights of the people, and save the free institutions of our country. The voters must protect themselves; they can expect no one else to defend them. In the name of the rights of the people, the homes of the land and the welfare of all future generations, we call upon all honest men to come to our support in this great contest."

The call is signed by H. E. Taubencok, Chairman; Robert Schilling, Secretary of the National Committee, People's party. For the committee appointed by the mass convention: Ben Terrill, Texas; H. L. Loucks, South Dakota.

STILL DEMOCRATS.

Georgia Alliance Men Who Ignore the Action at St. Louis.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 22.—The Alliance men of the Second Congressional district met in secret session at Cuthbert last night to agree on the candidate for Congress and formally decided, despite the action of the St. Louis convention, to remain within the lines of the Democratic party.

A Grateful Man.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The University of Chicago had another gift of $1,000,000 added to its endowment to-day. A letter was received by the trustees from John D. Rockefeller tending that sum in five per cent. gold bonds, to be handed over to the trustees with accrued interest March 1.

The giver reserves the right to designate the expenses to which the income shall be applied. The letter concludes as follows: "I make this gift as a special offering to Almighty God for returning health."

Where and What to Read.

If you are impatient, sit down and have a talk with Job.

If you are a little strong headed go to see Moses.

If you are getting weak-kneed, take a look at Elijah.

If there is no song in your heart, listen to David.

If you are a policy man, read Daniel.

If you are getting sordid, spend a while with Isaiah.

If you feel chilly, get the beloved disciple to put his arms around you.

If your faith is below par, read Paul.

If you are getting lazy, watch James.

If you are losing sight of the future, climb up Revelation, and get a glimpse of the promised land.

OUT ON BAIL.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 27.—The criminal court room was taxed to its utmost capacity this forenoon to hear the decision of Judge DuBose on the application for bail in the case of Lillie Johnson. Only men and a few colored women composed the crowd. On the opening of the court it was found that Attorney General Peters was not present and the judge announced that he would take up the misdemeanor docket.

At 9:30 Miss Lillie Johnson appeared, accompanied by her father and she took a seat at the bar. She had the appearance of being very nervous, with twitchings of the muscles of the face and body being plainly discernable.

When her veil had been turned aside, the court read his ruling, in the following words: The State vs. Alice Mitchell and Lillie Johnson:

The defendants were jointly indicted, charged with murder in the first degree. On indictment thus found, defendants being confined in the county jail awaiting trial, the defendant Johnson applies for bail on a proceeding of habeas corpus instituted for that purpose.

Whether she be entitled to bail as demanded, involves a question of law as well as fact, which must be decided alone by the court. It is provided in the declaration of rights of the constitution of our State that all prisoners shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, "unless for capital offenses when the proof is evident or the presumption great." The obvious meaning of this language is that when the proof is evident or the presumption great, that the defendant is guilty of a capital offense, bail cannot be allowed.

But to determine this the applicant for bail must summon the witnesses and the court proceed to fully investigate the case on the point as to whether the proof is evident or the presumption; for the burden of proof is on the defendant to show that she has the constitutional right to be bailed—that the proof against her is not evident.

Witnesses in the case have been summoned and fully examined, and without reviewing the evidence as presented, it is sufficient to say that the court is clearly of opinion that the proof is evident that the defendant aided and abetted in the commission of the crime with which she and her co-defendant are charged—a crime the most shocking and malignant ever perpetrated by women.

However, the court may consider on application for bail the condition of the defendant's health affected by confinement would endanger the life of the defendant, she ought to be bailed, as the policy of the law is not to punish unnecessarily those who are charged with crime, before trial and conviction.

It appears that defendant Johnson has been in precarious health since a mere child, and for this reason, and for this alone, the court will grant the prayer of the petitioner, and admit the defendant to bail.

The bond was fixed by the court at $10,000; and a moment later her father, Mr. J. M. Johnson, left the court room to get up the bond. He soon returned with Dr. H. L. Willford and Martin Kelley who signed the bond as sureties, together with the father, and when the prisoner came to affix her signature as principal she trembled so violently with nervousness that one of her counsel, Mr. Patterson, interposed and signed for her.

ADJOINING COUNTIES.

The Doings and the Sayings of Our Neighbors.

CALDWELL COUNTY.

[From the Banner.]

The discussion of prohibition, as applicable to Caldwell county, still continues to excite considerable interest in this community. Last Friday night Rev. N. F. Gill, of Trenton, spoke to a large audience at the colored Baptist church, and this week Prof. A. F. Williams, of Bethel College, is making a canvass of the county trying to create a stronger sentiment for prohibition, as well as to urge the people to demand as a legal right the suppression of "blind tigers" and this form of lawlessness. Tuesday was observed by the ministers of Princeton as a day of fasting and prayer for this end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brown were horrified last Friday morning upon awakening to find their infant child, only a few months old, cold in death. The child was put to bed the night before perfectly healthy, cooing and playful. The child slept in its mother's arms, and it is supposed that it was smothered in its sleep.

Jack Herron was arraigned before Police Judge Jacobs Monday and fined $46 on three charges as follows: $1 for immoderate riding, $20 for resisting arrest, and $25 for carrying a pistol.

HOPKINS COUNTY.

[From the Hustler.]

The bill to repeal the prohibition law of Hopkins county passed the house last week and no doubt passed the senate yesterday without a hitch. The precincts of Earlington, St. Charles and Morton's Gap are excepted from the provisions of the bill. Of course the anti-prohibitionists are more than pleased with the prospects of again having saloons in our midst, while those opposed to the sale of whisky are correspondingly depressed. It will be only a few weeks until we have here in full blast a lot of regularly licensed and legalized saloons. Whether it will be better or worse for our town and people time alone will tell.

UNION COUNTY.

[From the Sun.]

Mollie Coffman, concealing birth of illegitimate child, plead guilty to charge and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

Postmaster Vaupel has received a letter from the first assistant-postmaster notifying him that the office at this place has been made a third-class office. The letter read as follows: "In compliance with the act of congress approved March 3, 1883, the returns from your office for the four quarters ending December 31, 1891, have been received, and upon the basis of the gross receipts as shown therein, your salary as postmaster has been fixed at $1,000 per annum from April 1, 1892, and your office has been assigned to the third-class."

Hon. Frank Hurd, of Ohio, says if he is a delegate to the National Convention, he will place Mr. Cleveland in nomination. He has recently visited Mr. Cleveland and says that he is a candidate.

The wigwag for the National Democratic Convention will seat 20,000 persons.

The Crittenden Press

ISSUED WEEKLY.

R. C. WALKER, Publisher.

State Senator, J. S. Hargis, died very suddenly in Frankfort, Sunday.

The Democratic caucus failed to take any action on the free coinage measure. The indications are that the bill will pass the house.

In the House Friday the contested election between Stewart and Craig, of the twenty-fourth Pennsylvania district, was settled in favor of H. Craig, the Democrat.

Jerry Simpson, the Kansas statesman, thinks Gen. Weaver or Ignatius Donnelly will be the Third Party nominee for President, with Polk for vice-President.

It is stated that Mr. Cleveland will make no effort to secure a contesting delegation from New York to the Chicago convention. He has never shown himself merely for the spoils, and that is what makes him a clean, desirable man.

According to a Washington letter one of the candidates for congress in this district wrote to Capt. Stone, asking him to get off the track. The congressman answered that he would do so, when his constituents notified him that they had no further use for his services.

The Supreme Court of the United States has rendered a decision which, it is thought, will make the railroads, which have been exempt from taxation, in this state, since 1866, liable to the state for the amount of exemption. The amount involved is $126,680.90. The matter has been referred to Attorney General Hendrick.

Mr. Carlisle does not want to be a delegate to the Chicago convention, and expresses himself as follows: "I feel that I have had honor enough at present without being a delegate from the State at large. I hope, however, that the delegation will be made up of our best and most representative men. We have a number of Democrats in Kentucky of national reputation, and they should be sent to Chicago."

The Evangelist is the name of a new paper at Sturgis. It is a handsome eight page sheet, published by Rev. O. W. Ford, of the Christian church, and is devoted to the spreading of the gospel. In his salutatory the editor says: "With this paper I hope to elicit a greater desire to learn more of God's word, and of God's law, and of God's plan of saving souls. Hence, with this desire in my heart and praying that great good may be accomplished, I therefore send forth the contents of this paper in the name of my Master."

Recently the Press has not been issued without some reference to the disturbing element in the community—whisky. For ten years the conflict against the sale of liquor in this community has been going on. Victory has been purchased first upon the banner of one party, and then passed to the other to return again, and again to make the shift. Thus the fight goes continually with no prospects for a final settlement. Marion is not the only town that is and has been discussing this ever new question. At Benton, Marshall county, the forces are similarly arrayed; at Princeton the fight has been more bitter than here; at Madisonville, the forces are rarely out of line of battle. So it is and has been over the sale of liquor seems but little nearer a successful termination than years ago, incidentally it has wrought some good. The discussions have set the public to thinking the evil and the good of liquor drinking, and the result is that the excessive drinker of intoxicants has less respect from the public than ever before; the moderate drinker is less tolerated in the churches, and the younger generation regards liquor drinking, in all its phases, with less favor than did any previous generation, and in proportion to population, fewer drunkards will be developed.

Congressmen Hear From Home.

A Washington letter says: "Kentucky senators and representatives received this morning from Frankfort an official document in the shape of a joint resolution, passed by the general assembly of Kentucky, instructing them to vote for and use their best efforts to secure an amendment to the constitution of the United States empowering the people, by popular vote in the several states, to elect their senators in congress."

The members of the Kentucky delegation are receiving numerous letters daily from preachers in their respective districts urging them to vote against any appropriation for the World's Fair unless it is expressly stipulated that the fair shall not be opened on Sunday. The letters are unnecessary, however, as the Kentucky members are known to be against any appropriation of this kind on general principles.

The Sun predicts that when the nominating day comes Judge M. C. G. vens will have no opponent for the office of circuit Judge and Col. J. Henry Powell will have no opponent for the office of commonwealth's attorney. Although it will be a matter of very little difference to either of the gentlemen if they do.—Morganfield Sun.

We are disposed to believe that the Sun does not do justice to the distinguished gentlemen whose names it mentions an injustice. That they look upon the claims of other meritorious gentlemen in the district with disdain and indifference, we are not inclined to believe.

Tolu Items.

W M Barnett sold Gray & Alley quite a lot of cattle last week.

Mr McCool, of Evansville, bought a lot of stock here last week.

Cattle and hogs are selling for better prices now than for some time past.

Shepherd, Taylor, Simpson & Co., have sold their corn and are selling this week.

A Alvis, A J Bennett and W Watson also are selling corn.

Col T T Barnett must have used the rabbit foot on some of our corn buyers; he is buying all the corn in sight.

Master Liston Wilcox, son of Prof W E Wilcox, is helping Mr S F Crider to superintend his farm this year, assisted by Robt McMan.

Misses Mattie Whitmer, of Weston and Etta Whitmer, of Fords Ferry, and Clara Perry, of Irma, are attending our school.

Joe Waggoner, of near Providence visited Tolu last week.

We are glad to note that our friend A M Baldwin (Dolly) is now a full fledged lawyer; success to you Dolly.

Mr Jeff LaRue, the old reliable surveyor was among us lately.

CE & EE Weldon have organized an incorporated stock company in Tolu, to handle eggs, chickens and produce of all kinds.

L J Millican is building a residence in Tolu.

A J Nichols is on the sick list.

Little Maggie Moore, daughter of E B Moore, is sick.

The boys have a debating club at the Nubbin Ridge school house every Friday night.

The fox hunters had a fine chase last week, and report three killed.

Marion Dean was at home on a visit Saturday and Sunday.

For the benefit of the Weston correspondent we will say we can control a vote, even if we don't enjoy our suffrage, and he need not pay much attention to Mr Iron Hill, as he is a kind of mugwump, and does most any way for a little show, and like the Irishman's owl, he's all noise and feathers. Success to the Press and Tom Rankin.

Aunt Pheby.

Health in and about this place is generally good at this writing. All have lost their "grapple" with the exception of Mr Chas Rutter. We think his case will be protracted until about election time.

Mr A F Williams, of Presbyterian Bethel College, delivered a lecture here last Thursday night on the subject of Prohibition. He set forth the blessings of prohibitions and refuted the arguments of a great many that prohibition so called is the cause of "blind tigers," but every sensible person knows that such is not the case. A great many who claim to be respectable, patronize "blind tigers," and even some of the leaders in the church, when they would be ashamed to enter a public saloon and take a drink in the presence of ladies, but will slip in and take a drink at a "blind tiger," thus upholding a law breaker, and are as guilty in the sight of God, whom he publicly, claims to worship, as is the sly vender of the vile stuff. A few weeks since I heard two deacons of two different churches boasting of how they had procured whisky by the drink regularly from druggists since the local option and prohibition laws, and one of them said he had bought it for a man whom the druggist would not let have it. Such men as these are the cause of "blind tigers" being run instead of the prohibition law, as some who love to drink it have the impudence to declare.

J G W Brooks went to Louisville last week and bought a large lot of chairs and tables for his trade that he could not get elsewhere.

S R Cassidy went to Cape Girardeau, Mo., two weeks since and stayed three or four days, and was so delighted with his visit he will go again in the near future and stay longer.

The Hillyard sale was well attended and everything sold at a pretty high price.

Rev Morehead, of Princeton, preached at the C P church Sunday and Sunday night; he had large congregations considering the inclemency of the weather.

Charles Sanderson, of Crittenden died last Friday morning and was buried at the Hill grave yard in this county on Saturday. He left a wife and four children.

Mrs J R Jackson and daughters, of Crittenden, attended church here last Sunday.

Bennett & Woolf, of Kelsey, have sold over six hundred dollars worth of seed the farmers around here, and shipped a large lot to Repton last Friday morning.

John Reed shipped a fine lot of hogs Saturday.

J J Bennett has traded his house and lot in Marion for A Deboe's house and lot in Kelsey, and will move at once.

BLAINE WRITES.

The Secretary Has Something To Say About His Son's Family Troubles.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Under the heading of "A Personal Statement," Mr. Blaine to day gave the Associated Press a letter for publication; it is a somewhat detailed statement of his son's unpleasant domestic affairs. He says that Miss Nevins, who is now the divorced Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., is veiled his son, who is younger than himself, into a great marriage; that she let the only home her husband had to offer her—that of his father's—while he was absent, and that she let under the protest of her husband's mother, Mr. Blaine's statement that he offered to give his son $2,500 a year for the support of himself and family, but the wife would not remain at home. He denies the charges that Mrs. Blaine was unkind to her daughter-in-law. He also publishes a letter he had written to the minister who united in marriage the young couple, and generally criticizes that official or the part he played, because young Blaine was only eighteen years old at the time of the marriage.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

[Furnished by Glover & Durrett—Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.]

The following quotations fairly represent our market for dark tobacco crop of 1891.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 4,391 hds, with receipts for the same period amounting to 8,010 hds. The sales on our market since January 1st, amount to 27,189 hds. Sales of the crop of 1891 on our market to this date 24,484 hds.

The heavy sales of this week have shown about the usual per cent. of new dark tobacco which has been taken at prices fully as high as at any time since the opening of the season. Liberal offerings of old dark lugs have been made during the week and prices for such continue satisfactory. The demand for seed is very heavy and the preparation for the new crop unusually extensive.

Trash, $1.50 to $2.50.

Common to medium lugs, $2.50 to $4.50.

Dark rich lugs, extra quality, $4.50 to $5.75.

Common leaf, $4.50 to $6.00.

Medium to good leaf, $6.00 to $7.00.

Wrappery styles, $7.00 to $10.00.

Old Green River fillers, (home trade).

Common fillers, $7.00 to $9.00.

Medium to good fillers, $9.00 to $15.00.

Fine fillers, $15.00 to $19.00.

To the Tax-Payers.

From time to time I have notified you that I must collect the taxes due the county and state. I again must have a word with you. In self defense and to protect my securities, I am compelled to collect these taxes without further delay. I have no desire to levy, but I am under oath and bond to do my duty. I have waited a year, and must now collect. This is the last notice before levying.

The Outlook Encouraging.

Work is being pushed in the development of the lead and zinc ores at the old Tabb mines, seven miles south of Marion. "Pay dirt has been struck" is the latest news from there. The shaft has been sunk to a depth of 165 feet, and the mineral continues to grow richer. The parties interested have plenty of money, and as new machinery is being put in, it appears that they have some faith in the ultimate success. An experienced miner is in charge, and the work is being done in a substantial way. On the final outcome of this work depends, in a great measure, the mining interest of Crittenden.

Mrs. F. W. Loving has for sale an excellent complexion powder, Evilio, for removing freckles, tan, wrinkles, etc.

A FUTILE EFFORT.

The Lawyers in the Local Option Fight Endeavor to Agree.

On last Friday a lively correspondence between the attorney representing F. E. Robertson & Co., the distillers, and the attorneys representing the Commonwealth, was being carried on at irregular intervals until Monday, when communication ceased. The object of the correspondence was to bring about a speedy settlement of the points under discussion, but at present the prospects are that the cases will have to go through the usual slow course of law before a final adjudication. The following is the first communication and the answer to it, which shows the position of each side:

Whereas, there is a great difference of opinion between us as to the right of distillers, under the existing circumstances, in District No. 1, in Crittenden county, Kentucky, to sell of their own manufacture whiskey in their usual course of trade, and considerable expense and trouble has and will accumulate on account of such difference. Now to avoid same, we propose that we agree upon some circuit court judge of this State, outside of this appellate court district, and submit the matter to him for his decision as to the right of such distillers to sell under the existing circumstances, and when such decision is rendered let both sides of the question submit until a higher court passes upon the matter.

Nunn & Cruce, Attys. James C. Moore, E. C. Flannery.

Messrs. Nunn & Cruce, James C. Moore, and E. C. Flannery, attorneys for F. E. Robertson & Co.; Gentlemen: Your proposition for a settlement of the questions growing out of the right of F. E. Robertson & Co., to sell, as distillers, whiskey of their manufacture in District No. 1, of Crittenden county, in their usual course of trade under existing circumstances in said district, has this day been submitted to us.

You do not propose in your proposition to limit the sale by them to the quart or in less quantities than five gallons. The law, as we understand it, permits them to sell in quantities not less than five gallons in their usual trade, and to submit the question as proposed by you would not settle the matter at issue between us without limiting it to sales by the quart or retail.

We will now make you this proposition:

1st. We will, by agreement, take the case upon the whole record in the circuit and county courts and submit to either the judges of superior or appellate court, sitting as a court, and ask them for an immediate decision, and in the meantime from the date of this proposition is accepted, F. E. Robertson & Co., shall in good faith, cease from selling in quantities less than five gallons, and no further prosecutions shall be set out until the case is decided; or

2nd. We will submit the question involved to Judge Toney, of the Louisville Law and Equity court, or Judge Edwards, of the Louisville Chancery court, and each party shall suspend sales and prosecutions as in proposition No. 1, and shall abide the decision as a finality; or

3rd. We will submit the question to either of said judges upon the whole record, each party to be bound by the decision given until it is passed upon by the Appellate court, provided the record is sent to Appellate court immediately and a speedy decision sought, and in the meantime F. E. Robertson & Co., shall in the good faith, cease to sell in quantities less than five gallons, and no prosecutions shall be set out from the date of the acceptance of this proposition in any of the inferior courts. We can give no guaranty that no prosecutions shall be had in circuit courts for sales already made. This 26 day of Feb. 1892.

Blue & Blue, Attys. for W. J. Deboe, Com'rs. Other correspondence followed; none of which brought about an agreement. The main point of difference was that one side wanted the sale stopped at once, while the other would agree to stop the sale only when the court to which the question was referred said so.

THE EDDYVILLE MYSTERY.

Smith's Father Offers a Reward for the Body.

The father of J. Hiram Smith, the man who so mysteriously disappeared from Eddyville, lives in Hodgenville, Ky., and a special to the Times from that place says:

"Dr. Jerome Smith, the father of Hiram Smith, is confident his son was foully murdered, and he, with his sons, has just issued a thousand hand bills to be circulated along Cumberland river, offering a reward of $200 for the recovery of his body. Dr. Smith, with detective George Hunter, of Bardston, investigated the matter thoroughly and ascertained that Smith had in his pocket on the night in question all the money that was due to the railroad and express companies and to individuals."

Articles of Incorporation.

Know all men by these presents, that we, Sam Gugenheim, Jas. P. Pierce and W. B. Yandell, and our successors and assigns, have this day formed a body corporate and desire to be incorporated in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 56 of the General Statutes of Kentucky.

First—The name of the corporation shall be, "Pierce, Yandell, & Gugenheim Co.," and its principal place for the transaction of business is to be at Marion, Kentucky.

Second—The general nature of the business proposed to be transacted is the general mercantile business, and what other business there may be incident thereto.

Third—This corporation shall begin business on the 20th day of February, 1892, and continued for a period of ten years, unless sooner dissolved by a vote of one half of the paid up capital stock.

Fourth—The officers of this corporation shall consist of a president, secretary and treasurer, and such other officers as may be agreed upon by the stockholders of the corporation, and until otherwise changed by the stockholders.

Fifth—The private property of the members of this corporation shall be exempt from the payment of the corporate debts.

Sixth—The amount of capital stock authorized is $20,000.00, of which $10,000.00 is already paid up in cash and merchandise at the commencement of business, the balance is to be paid at such time as the stockholders, representing a majority of the paid up stock, may decide.

Seventh—The greatest amount of liability to which this corporation shall at any time subject itself shall not exceed one fourth of its capital stock.

Eighth—The corporation shall have the right to sue and to be sued, and to be contracted with, in its corporate name, to render the shares or interests of stockholders transferrable, as may be agreed upon by the stockholders, and to prescribe the mode of transferring same, to acquire and transfer property, possessing the same power in such respects as private individuals now enjoy; and to establish and make all rules and regulations expedient for the management of the affairs of the corporation not inconsistent with the laws of this State or the United States.

Ninth—Upon the dissolution of the corporation a majority of the paid up stock at a meeting of the stockholders may prescribe how the affairs of the corporation shall be wound up in so far as it is possible and proper to do under the law.

Tenth—Said parties composing said corporation shall hold and own the proportions of said stock that they may purchase.

Witness the hands of said incorporators this 20th day of February, 1892.

Carrsville.

Nothing of interest to write but in order to kill time and annoy the readers of the Press we will try to think of something to fill our space in the paper.

Oh, yes Tom Smith the 2 handed clothier talks of leaving us, we have not learned where he intends to emigrate to we don't Tom has been doing a very lucrative business lately as his goods does not suit the Carrsville trade very well; the boys say the clothing was worn too much before they bought them.

And yes we noticed in last week's Press that Cheap John adds a few more costs; John my boy just change that word and say Kites and take my word it will bring em in, for you know that kites are very scarce, consequently the demand should be great; we know this to be true for we handle but a very light stock and the nearer we are out of an article the more calls we have for that same article, but just so soon as we have a supply just that soon are our customers supplied and the demand is over so you see that the less of any one thing you have the better, except it be cash and you should not have too much of that if you like to sleep easy.

Judge Campbell, of Paducah was in our town a few days since exhorting the voters and we find since he left that there was a goodly number of Campbellites in the neighborhood; as for ourself we have been converted to that faith for sometime.

We have been pondering for some time over the way W. J. Stone voted in the contest for speaker, and there is only one solution in view, that is Stone must have been a Whig in his young days, and still has a sympathy for his old love.

James G. Blaine learned that his reciprocity scheme would not be reciprocated to the extent that a majority of these United States would scratch his back in 1893, so the old man just crawled out of the river.

Oh, we had almost forgotten that we had nothing to write, so conclude fearing, that perhaps the type might get disgusted and set his type upside down, and the devil would be to pay, the type not be inked, and the editor would fail to have

THE PLATFORM.

The Demands of the St. Louis Convention.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 25.—The industrial convention adopted the following platform:

"First—We declare the union of the labor forces of the United States, this day accomplished, permanent and perpetual. May its spirit enter into all hearts for the salvation of the republic and the uplifting of mankind.

"Second—Wealth belongs to him who creates it. Every dollar taken from industry, without an equivalent, is robbery. 'If any will not work, neither shall he eat.' The interests of rural and urban labor are the same; their enemies are identical.

"Third—We demand a national currency, safe, sound and flexible, issued by the General Government only, a full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and that without the use of banking corporations, a just, equitable means of circulation at a tax not to exceed 2 per cent., as set forth in the sub-Treasury plan of the Farmers' Alliance, or some better system. Also by payments in discharge of its obligation for public improvements.

"Fourth—We demand free and unlimited coinage of silver.

"Fifth—We demand that the amount of circulating medium be speedily increased to not less than $50 per capita.

"Sixth—We demand a graduated income tax.

"Seventh—We believe that the money of the country should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people and hence we demand all national State revenues shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the Government economically and honestly administered.

"Eighth—We demand that postal savings banks be established by the Government for the safe deposit of the earnings of the people, and to facilitate exchange.

"Ninth—Your sub-committee upon the land plank beg to submit to your approval the following: The land, including all the natural resources of wealth, is the heritage of all the people and should not be monopolized for speculative purposes, and alien ownership of land should be prohibited. All lands now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs and all lands now owned by aliens should be reclaimed by the Government and held for actual settlers only.

"Tenth—Transportation being a means of exchange and a public necessity, the Government should own and operate the railroads in the interest of the people.

"Eleventh—The telegraph and telephone, like the post-office system, being a necessity for the transmission of news should be owned and operated by the Government in the interest of the people.

"Twelfth—We demand that the Government issue legal tender notes and pay the Union soldiers the difference between the price of the depreciated money in which he was paid, and gold.

LOCAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Secretary and Executive Officers Call Your Attention to the Following Plain Facts.

Rule 16. No person or persons afflicted with any contagious or infectious diseases shall be admitted into any public or private school.

Rule 17. No parent, guardian, or other person, having charge or control of any child, or children, shall allow or permit any such child, or children, to go from any house or building infected with scarlet fever, diphtheria, small-pox, measles, whooping-cough, cholera or other contagious and infectious diseases dangerous to public health, to attend any public or private school.

Rule 18. No person shall be admitted into any public or private school who may recently have been affected with any of the diseases named until first presenting a certificate signed by a reputable physician, that all danger of communicating such disease to others is passed.

Rule 19. The county health officer shall exercise special hygienic supervision over the schools and school houses within their respective jurisdiction, and where defects are found, it shall be the duty of said officer to immediately call attention of the school authorities, and see that they have removed.

Rule 20. Every child should be vaccinated before it becomes two years old, and this Board recommends that all persons be re-vaccinated as often as once in five years.

Rule 21. All incorporated manufacturing companies within the jurisdiction of this Board shall cause each new employee to be vaccinated on entrance unless proof is furnished of previous successful vaccination.

Rule 22. The Board recommends that no person become a member of any public or private school within the jurisdiction of this Board as teacher or scholar, without furnishing a certificate from some reputable physician that he or she has been successfully vaccinated.

This Board recommends and would most respectfully ask the heads of families, and practicing physicians, within the jurisdiction of this Board, to observe Rule 23 and 24, in which it is made the duty of heads of families, when they shall know or suspect that any person, within his or her family, is sick with small pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, cholera, or any other diseases dangerous to public health, he shall immediately give notice to the health officer, within whose jurisdiction he may reside, and whenever any physician shall know or suspect that any person whom he is called to visit has small-pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, cholera or other disease dangerous to public health, such physicians shall give notice immediately, together with the locality and full description of the case, to the health officer, or a member of the Board. All physicians failing to comply with these rules, will subject themselves to the penalty of the statute laws, and it is the duty of this Board to see that said rules are observed and carried out in the letter and spirit of health laws, and it is the intention of this Board to discharge its duty to the best of its ability without fear or affection. Take notice accordingly.
